Pattern Details

The pattern has a central cable motif, beautifully finished with a picot crochet border for an extra decorative touch. If the picot edge isn't your style, I suggest knitting the first three and last three stitches with the garter stitch to help prevent curling, but keep in mind that you need to cast on these extra edge stitches. At the end of this pattern, you'll find a chart, but I've also included a written version. Row 15 is a bit trickier due to the cabling process, so if you need extra help, you can check out the full tutorial on YouTube! The Video includes everything from the first row to sewing on the tassel, I would recommend watching it if anything is unclear.

Picot Edge

Stitch Multiple: This pattern can be worked over any number of stitches. To ensure a consistent look, keep the same number of stitches between each picot. In my version, I worked 3 stitches between each picot and placed a picot in every 4th stitch.

Special Stitch:

- Picot (pic): Single crochet (sc) in the stitch, chain 3, then slip stitch (sl st) into the front loop and the left loop of the single crochet at the base of the chain.

Round 1:

- Begin with a standing single crochet (sc) in the middle of the purl stitch (in between the cables).
- Single crochet (sc) up to the stitch where you want to place your first picot.
- Work (picot, single crochet to the next picot) repeatedly until you reach the corner.

- At each corner, work (sc, 1 picot, sc into the corner stitch).

When you reach the end, work one slip stitch into the first single crochet. Then chain 20 stitches. Cut the yarn and leave a longer tail to sew on the tassel.

For the tassel:

1. Wrap your yarn around your hand 20 times and cut it.
2. Thread the long tail of your yarn (from your ch20) through a needle.
3. Slide a bead onto the chain of 20 stitches you made earlier.
4. Pass the long tail of the yarn through the center of the tassel (the looped yarn you wrapped around your hand).
5. Then, thread the tail through the hole of the bead.
6. Insert the needle through a chain space, bring the yarn back through the bead, and wrap it around the tassel. Repeat this process about 3 times to secure the tassel and bead.
7. Wrap the yarn horizontally around the tassel to form the typical tassel shape. Tie a knot to secure it, and pass the yarn through the wrapped section, leaving it hanging.
8. Cut open the bottom loops of the tassel and trim it to your desired length.

Chart

Cast on 35 stitches using the long-tail cast-on method and begin following the chart. Knit rows 1 through 31 (from the chart) twice. After completing the chart for the second time, knit rows 1 through 15 once more. Finish by ending on a wrong-side row.

The wrong-side rows are not included in the chart. On every wrong-side row, knit the stitches as they appear (knit the knit stitches and purl the purl stitches).

All even-numbered rows (wrong-side rows) are worked as follows: [E, p3, k3, p10, k1, p10, k3, p3, E]
